

Press release

Amsterdam, 10 February 2016

ABN AMRO MeesPierson again named best private bank

For the thirteenth consecutive year, ABN AMRO MeesPierson has been awarded the prize for 'Best Private Banking Services Overall' in the Netherlands by Euromoney magazine. Candidates for the award had been nominated by institutions in the banking sector, who voted ABN AMRO MeesPierson as best service provider in private banking. ABN AMRO MeesPierson also took first prize in the new category 'Innovative Technology – Customer Experience'.

The annual Private Banking and Wealth Management Survey is held among banks and other financial institutions and provides a qualitative and quantitative review of the best services in private banking, by region and by areas of service.

Jos ter Avest, Managing Director of ABN AMRO MeesPierson: 'Our fellow private banks have once again named us best provider of private banking services. This is a great achievement. I am also particularly pleased that we were voted number one for 'Innovative Technology – Customer Experience'. It's great to see that our peers recognise the many innovations we have made to our service.'

Winner in several categories

Besides receiving the overall award for best private bank in the Netherlands and for innovative technology, ABN AMRO MeesPierson also came in first place in the following categories:

- Net-worth-specific services UHNWC greater than USD 30 million
- Net-worth-specific services HNWC USD 5 million to USD 30 million
- Super affluent USD 1 million to USD 5 million
- Family Office Services
- Research and Asset Allocation Advice
- Philanthropic Advice
- Succession Planning Advice and Trusts
- Innovative Technology - Back Office System